

6516205002.txt

As an XM listener, I'm greatly troubled by the current NAB petition to the FCC regarding local programming interests. If this new satellite radio technology can provide another option for customers, the government should not appease current broadcasters because they feel threatened. The FCC's main interests should be with the consumers, and by passing petition number 04-160, they are merely taking away competition from the people.